ASTOR WEDDING DATE UNCERTAIN

Will Be Fixed on Arrival of Mr. Dick—It May Be Thursday.

Bar Harbor, June 20.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor's wedding plans were still indefinite yesterday, and beyond admitting that the marriage would take place in the near future, nothing further could be learned.

The marriage cannot take place before Thursday, owing to the delay necessary in procuring the license. While it is quite likely that it will occur on that date, it is not certain. Upon the arrival of William K. Dick it is expected that a date will be definitely set, but it is quite probable that the pair will keep their own counsel and keep the wedding date a secret till the last minute.

Mrs. William H. Force and Miss Katherine Force, mother and sister of Mrs. Astor, arrived yesterday afternoon on the New York flyer, getting off at Ellsworth and boarding a waiting motor car which took them to Bar Harbor, twenty miles away.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Astor was undecided whether to wait here or to return at once to New York, but finally made up her mind to remain here. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Albert C. Larned, rector of St. Saviour's, the local Episcopal church, and there will be no attendants except Adolph Dick, a brother of the bridegroom-to-be, who will act as best man.

The marriage license application filed Saturday night at a late hour just before the town clerk closed his office shortly before midnight, was a hastily written affair in pencil. Mrs. Astor gave her age as 24 and Mr. Dick's as 28. His occupation was given as a banker and sugar manufacturer. Brooklyn was given as Mrs. Astor's birthplace.

ROOSEVELT FOR HUGHES

Will Indorse the Republican Candidate in a Public Announcement

AFTER PROGRESSIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

Senator Lodge and W. Murray Crane Confer with Hughes

Oyster Bay, June 20.—Col. Roosevelt will publicly indorse Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican presidential candidate, immediately after the meeting of the Progressive national committee at Chicago, June 26, it was learned on high authority yesterday.

Though nothing is known positively of what the Progressive committee will do, it is expected the committee will accept Roosevelt's declaration of the Progressive nomination. Roosevelt, however, it has been pointed out, would not necessarily be bound by the committee, even though it refused to accept.

Col. Roosevelt said yesterday that after July 1 he will be without secretaries. "I will be in private life, as I have declared, and will not need them," he said.

He asked the hundreds who have written him since the nomination to be satisfied with the public appreciation of this willingness to help. He said he has found it physically impossible to make replies to all of the letters.

Frank H. Hitchcock, "the man, who put over" Charles Evans Hughes at the Chicago convention, was one of the dozens of politicians, who called on the Republican candidate yesterday. It was his first visit since the nomination.

Hitchcock said he had no ambitions to direct the Hughes campaign. "I do not aspire to the chairmanship of the national committee, and I know nothing about who is in line for the place," he declared.

Hitchcock was in an uncommunicative mood. He would not talk about the Progressives, or about general political plans.

George W. Wickersham, attorney general under Taft, called yesterday. He has been one of the candidate's most persistent visitors.

Frederick T. Tanner, chairman of the New York Republican committee, was another caller.

William R. Wilson, formerly chairman of the New York public service commission and a strong prospect for the national committee chairmanship, saw Hughes for some time. Franklin Murphy, formerly governor of New Jersey, was another to pay his respects to the Republican candidate.

The headquarters of the sub-committee of the Republican national committee at the Baltimore and the Hughes headquarters at the Astor were the center of political interest yesterday.

At the Astor Charles E. Hughes had conferences with W. Murray Crane and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and with former National Chairman Charles H. Hill.

At the conclusion of his conference with the Republican nominee, ex-Senator Crane hurried back to the Baltimore for another conference with the other members of the sub-committee. The sub-committee met Mr. Hughes later yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hughes declined to comment on his talk with Mr. Crane or Senator Lodge except to say that he had had very pleasant talks. He refused, before meeting the entire sub-committee, to say who had been decided upon for his campaign manager and would not state definitely that an announcement along that line would be made yesterday.

Asked to outline his plans after his return from Providence the latter part of the week, Mr. Hughes replied with a laugh: "Out of respect for college traditions I will not talk of my plans when I come back until I get back."

Mr. Hughes assured his friends, however, that he expects the liveliest sort of a campaign and expects it to begin immediately upon his arrival. Asked if he would take the political stump himself, he told reporters that that was a matter upon which he had not made up his mind, but advised them to use their own imagination. There is no doubt among those that know him, that Mr. Hughes will take the most active part in his own campaign.

GOV. GATES' APPEAL FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Calls Attention to 125th Anniversary of Vermont's Admission to the Union and Asks Co-operation Of the People of the State.

To the people of the state of Vermont:

One hundred and twenty-five years ago Vermont was admitted into the union and became and remains an active and forceful part of our great country. On the battlefield, in the halls of Congress, in the field of invention, in commercial and industrial activities, in all branches of science, in agricultural pursuits and in religious and civic advancement, Vermont's century and a quarter has been productive of wonderful and wide-spread results. Her people of to-day are possessed of a prodigious and significant heritage and a procession of advantages and environment of which we may be justly proud and thankful. She is rich in soil, wealthy in minerals and possessed of strong men and women.

It is fitting and right that we celebrate the birth of our great state; that we commemorate the gallant deeds of our noble men and women; and that we unite in a resolve to remain true to the trust which is ours in order that the future of the state may be assured of a high and honorable place among our sister states and in order that the fourteenth star may remain bright and untarnished on the flag.

I therefore recommend that all our people co-operate in a general undertaking to make this one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary a notable and memorable one in the history of the state. May we not only enter heartily into the celebration of our birth year, but may we prepare for a great future for our commonwealth.

Let our deeds be a monument to this anniversary.

We can encourage and foster the development of our civic pride and municipal consciousness.

We can co-operate with our boards of trade and commercial clubs that industrial activities increase and that commercial growth become accelerated.

We can promote and elevate our churches and schools that the purity of character and nobleness and patriotism in our boys and girls may be assured.

We can improve our agricultural opportunities and make home life on our farms more attractive and profitable.

We can use in all the activities and an unquestioned patriotism, and we can transcend all little jealousies and class prejudice in our earnest endeavors to develop and realize the greater Vermont.

During the year there will be held under the auspices of the Greater Vermont association and other civic and industrial societies several meetings with especially prepared and appropriate programs. These meetings deserve your hearty support and co-operation. Let them indicate a strong movement forward and a wholesome support of true Americanism.

There will be special anniversary services held in our churches on Sunday, July 2, next, and I urge special effort on the part of the people to co-operate with their pastors in making these services helpful and full of patriotic inspiration. I recommend that the people generally attend these services and join in giving thanks to Almighty God for the commonwealth and for what it has stood in the past one hundred and twenty-five years and for what its future means to us as a steadily progressing and patriotic people.

It is expected that there will be a general home-coming and that Vermonters from other states will visit their native soil. Let us extend them a welcome hand—a welcome home—and let us make the stranger—the summer visitor—feel the warmth of good Vermont hospitality. Let each one of us take some active part in making this year count for Vermont.

Charles W. Gates, Governor.

Montpelier, Vermont, June 15, 1916.

MAY FINISH ORPET CASE THIS WEEK

State Calls Another Girl to Refute the Claim That the Lambert Girl Was Unhappy.

Waukegan, Ill., June 20.—It was the expectation that the evidence of the state in the case of Will H. Orpet, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, would be concluded this week, when the hearing of evidence was resumed yesterday.

Olive Rasmussen, another of the 18 girls who attended Marion's birthday party Feb. 6, three days before her death, was the first witness. Ten of the girls testified Saturday.

Like the other guests, Miss Rasmussen testified that Marion seemed happy and that she did not see her and Josephine Davis, Marion's confidante as to her affair with Orpet, alone together.

James F. King, who was foreman of the coroner's jury, the next witness, identified a lock of hair of Marion Lambert. It was stated, it is alleged, by the accused, of cyanide of potassium.

GROCER JOHNSON'S NEW SIGN

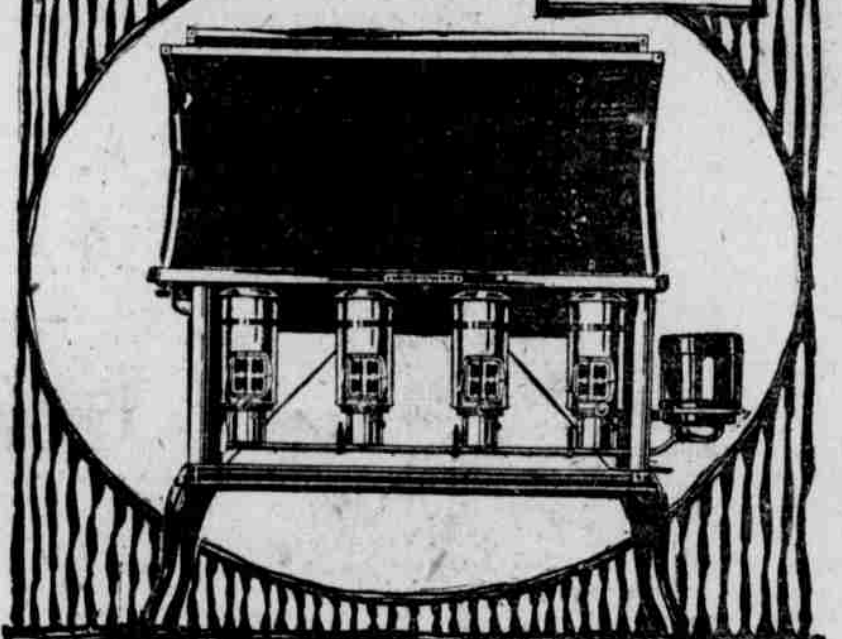

What does it mean? It means that Mr. Johnson carries Socony Kerosene Oil and he wants everybody to know it. Why?

Because Socony Kerosene is the safest and best kerosene on the market. Inexpensive, too, compared to the present price of coal. The New Perfection Oil Cook Stove cooks three meals a day for a family of six at an average fuel cost of six cents.

The New Perfection is economical and efficient, because the long blue chimney burner converts every drop of oil into clear, intense heat. The 1916 models have the new patented reversible glass reservoir and many other improvements. Sold in 1, 2, 3, and 4-burner sizes (by hardware, furniture and general stores) everywhere.
